STREET REPAIR CONTRACT LET; $6,000 JOB SEEN

Warren Company's Bid Is Low, Among Three, On Materials

WORK TO START IN NEAR FUTURE

Fund Is Set Up by City Council for Patching Holes

Work of repairing Salem's asphalt streets, damaged by freezing and thawing, is expected to get under way in the near future, following action by council and the board of control yesterday.

The board, which comprises the mayor, service and safety directors, awarded the contract for resurfacing the streets to the Wayne C. Neff Co. of Warren, after opening bids yesterday noon.

The company's bid was 12 1/2 cents a gallon on the asphalt emulsion and $1.75 a ton on the limestone chips which are to be used in sealing the streets.

The job of improving five streets in the city is expected to involve the use of 30,600 gallons of the emulsion and 920 tons of the limestone chipping.

Two other Bids

Two other bids were received. The City Cold Patch Co. of Youngstown bid 13 1/2 cents on the emulsion and $2.45 on the chipping, while the Carbon Limestone Co. of Lowellville submitted a $1.70 bid on the limestone only.

City council, meeting in special session Monday night, passed an ordinance transferring $1,500 from the city's motor vehicle license fund to the street maintenance and repair fund in order that the work might be continued.

This money will be used in patching holes throughout the city.

Additional money probably will be appropriated at the next regular council session. The job of resurfacing the streets is expected to cost at least $6,000, according to estimates of City Engineer F. S. Barkhoff.

The streets scheduled for resurfacing include N. and S. Lincoln avenues, downtown E. Pershing st. and Newgarden ave. and W. State st.

Nazis Push Drive, Claim Leige; French Sedan Reported Fallen

BRUSSELS FIGHT IS DEVELOPING

"Extremely Serious" Situation For Allies Is Created

LONDON, May 14.—Germany's smashing attacks created an "extremely serious" situation for Allied warriors in southern Holland today. In Belgium a great battle was developing for possession of the capital, Brussels.

A military source appraising the widespread conflict for supremacy in the lowland countries said that it would be a few days before the course of the war could be told, but that British troops were cooperating with Belgian soldiers in defense of Brussels.

(The Germans reported that they had reached the Meuse river to the east of Brussels between Namur and Givet and that the city of Liege was in German hands.)

(The Nazis also said that their advance guards had reached Rotterdam, that they had broken through the Grebbe defense system in central Holland and are advancing toward Utrecht.)

Control Northern Provinces
A Netherlands army communique admitted that the Germans fully control the northern Holland provinces, but said that "Rotterdam on the north side of the River Maas is in our hands."

"Any enemy detachment which had landed at Hemnes was bombarded by a British warship. Casualties were inflicted on the enemy."

BELGIAN CABINET STAYS

BRUSSELS, May 14.—Belgium's cabinet, with air raid sirens screaming through the city and anti-aircraft batteries in action, declared today it would remain in the capital—the goal of a German army driving westward from the Liege area.

ROTTERDAM IN FLAMES

HITLER FORCES CLAIMING GAINS

High Command Announces Break in Grebbe Defense Line

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 14.—German forces in central Holland have broken through the Dutch Grebbe defense system and are advancing toward Utrecht, the German high command announced today.

German forces also pierced "Holland" fortifications with the vanguards reaching Rotterdam, the announcement said.

A heavy tank battle was fought north of Namur with the Germans attacking Allied tanks after Nazi bombing. (The French claimed victory in the battle and called German losses "tremendous.")

The penetration of French soil, the high command said, was made "under the protection of continuously attacking German fighting planes, Stukas (dive bombers) and destroyer-plane units."

Claim Rapid Advance

Apparently the Germans had advanced in some spots at a rate of 40 to 60 miles a day despite solid Belgian resistance backed up now by increasing French strength.

The crossing of the Meuse carried the Germans into the region of Sedan, where Emperor Napoleon III was captured in 1870 in a climax of the Franco-Russian war and which was held by Kaiser Wilhelm's army from 1914 to the closing days of the World war.

AMSTERDAM, May 14.—Huge petroleum stores in Amsterdam were set afire today by the Dutch as a defense measure, it was officially announced, as the Dutch army defending western Holland fell back to its main water defense line.

The mayor of Amsterdam broadcast a message to the citizens of the Dutch capital assuring them that there was no reason for anxiety as the fires in the harbor district were started by the military authorities as a precautionary measure.

The principal conflagrations were at petroleum storage places in the western part of the harbor and the Bataafsche petroleum depot.

"GREAT BATTLE" EXPECTED SOON

Germans Reported To Be Concentrating In Sedan Area

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, May 14.—A French military spokesman conceded this morning that the City of Sedan, 10 miles within France in the fortified border zone below the Belgian border, "probably had been taken" by German attackers.

The high command earlier had admitted that the Germans, gaining momentum in their push through southeastern Belgium, had crossed France's northern border and it was generally conceded that the long-awaited "great battle of the west" had at last begun.

The German advance, the French communique disclosed, was part of a push which carried the Germans to the Meuse river on an 80-mile front extending northward from Sedan through the Belgian town of Namur to Liege, key point in Belgium's eastern defenses.

Military advices have indicated that it was along this line that the Allies planned to make their stand against the Germans in a battle expected to prove a decisive factor in the outcome of the entire war.

Concentrate Massive Attack

The Germans were reported to have concentrated a massive attack, supported by tanks and airplanes, in the Sedan sector. The town, which is on the south bank of the Meuse, was emptied of its civilian population.

Equally heavy fighting was reported by the French at the Belgian town of Dinant, 15 miles south of Namur on the Meuse.

Dinant likewise was abandoned by civilians.

The French communique said the Nazi attack was increasing everywhere, and that the Germans had used two full divisions in their drive to the Meuse. Sedan is located in the northern extension of the Maginot line.

The French reported repulse of a German assault at Longwy—inside the French frontier near the junction of the Belgian and Luxembourg borders—after bitter street fighting. The French still are holding the town, a spokesman said.

COUNTY RACES, GOOD WEATHER INCREASE TOTAL

Republicans Cast 504 Ballots, Democrats 212 At Noon

LATTER STRONG IN 3 PRECINCTS

Precinct C of 4th Ward Brings Out Heaviest G. O. P. Count

The presidential preference primary shared interest with European war news today as Republican and Democratic voters marched to the polls to nominate candidates to represent their parties in the fall election.

Greeted by fair weather, a large number of voters went to the polls early in 14 Salem precincts, indicating that today's total vote will be well above the total vote in the last presidential preference primary in 1936, with, however, county contests attracting attention.

Election workers reported shortly after noon today that 716 voters had been to the polls in 14 Salem precincts and 90 ballots had been cast in Perry township.

Heavier Than '36

On the basis of this report, today's early voting is considerably heavier than it was in the presidential primary in 1936 when 425 votes had been recorded in Salem at noon and 47 in Perry township.

The early voting today followed the usual trend with the Republicans far outnumbering the Democrats. Of the 716 voters who visited the polls before noon, 504 chose Republican ballots and 212 marked the Democratic ticket.

The Democrats, however, showed new strength in at least three precincts, outnumbering Republican voters in Precinct A of the First Ward and A of the Third Ward and nearly equalling the G. O. P. vote in Precinct D of the First Ward.

Weakest Democratic precincts were C of the Second Ward and D of the Fourth Ward.

Pet. A of Fourth Heavy

The heaviest Republican vote at noon had been cast in Precinct A of the Fourth Ward where it was reported 66 G. O. P. ballots had been marked.

Perry township reported 75 Republican and 15 Democratic ballots cast at noon today as compared to a noon total in the 1936 primary of 39 Republicans and 8 Democrats.

While the city vote at noon today was higher than the noon vote in the 1936 presidential primary, it was lower than the noon total in last year's city primary. The total vote at noon last year in the city primary was 854, while in the general election it was 1,216.

The noon vote in all Salem precincts and Perry township at noon today, listed according to parties, follows:

THE ULTIMATE CRISIS

Adolf Hitler tells the young men carrying out his plan to destroy Great Britain and make the world safe for dicta-ship that the fate of Germany for the next 1,000 years is being decided.

The inference intended to be drawn is that courageous fighting will bring victory and assure their country's security for a thousand years. The inference that might be drawn is vastly different. There are Germans capable of drawing it, unless they have forgotten what they once knew.

Germans fought courageously for a militant leader with grandiose ideas a quarter of a century ago and lost. Their country was thrown into revolution, followed by counter-revolution, then Hitlerism.

Hitlerism offered the German people a streamlined repetition of Kaiser Wilhelm's abortive attempt to carve an empire. Lacking anything better, they were forced to accept it. Another war is the result.

Insofar as there can be anything like victory in mass warfare, it is conceivable that Germany might gain a victory. It is more easily conceivable that it will suffer defeat. In either case, its goal of overcoming the combined power of the nations it has marked for extinction is too remote to be reached without exhaustion.

Thus, the ultimate crisis of the war is not this triumph or that triumph, but the end of the war and the revolution that inevitably must follow. The fate of Germany is being decided for the next thousand years, perhaps more, perhaps less. So is the fate of every other belligerent, but not in the way Adolf Hitler means. He has forgotten—as many have forgotten—that when the World War ended men confessed they had learned a great lesson from it. No one, they knew then, had anything to gain from modern mass warfare. Everybody lost.

THE LIE AS STANDARD EQUIPMENT

Germans excused invasion of Belgium and the Netherlands with the same excuse it used for Belgium in 1914—the enemy was getting ready to do the same thing, so Germany did it first. For some reason, not hard to guess, the enemy always is caught flat-footed by Germany.

If the German diplomats who manufacture this kind of absurd falsehood to excuse the violation of weaker countries were shrewd, in case any one is glib enough to believe them, they would have done this:

Let the Allies invade Belgium and the Netherlands first; then they could have claimed with some show of reason that the aggressor in the war is not Germany.

As it is, they have worked the lie to death. They have made it standard equipment for every move. They have taught the world to expect it. After lying about seizure of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Norway, Denmark and now Belgium and the Netherlands, Germany no longer can depend on the element of surprise by telling one more lie. If on the other hand its government would have sudden recourse to the truth, it merely would be so unexpected no one would believe it anyway.

On the whole, the long and monstrous fib sent to the Belgian and Netherlands governments easily is one of the great masterpieces of misleading, surpassed in modern times only by Soviet Russia's canard that it had to attack Finland before Finland attacked it. That will go down in history as the finest example of free style lying ever recorded.

FIFTH COLUMNS, TROJAN HORSES

Development of mass warfare lends importance to what the Dies committee might call "un-American groups." Prior to the Dies committee they were spoken of delicately as "subversive elements."

In the new war they are called "fifth columns" and "Trojan horses." Their function is to make trouble from within, particularly at the instant of crisis when the most damage can be done. Thus, the Bund would be a "fifth column" in the United States in case of attack by Germany.

The late Gen. Emilio Mola of Spain, killed early in the war in an airplane crash, is credited with originating the phrase "fifth column." He is supposed to have explained that four rebel columns would march on Madrid simultaneously, aided at the crucial moment by a fifth column inside the city.

It is a better phrase by far than "Trojan horse." When the Greeks sailed away they left their now famous wooden horse on the plains outside Troy. The Trojans stupidly hauled the thing inside the city, with results now known far and wide. It can't be said that any of the victims of undercover tactics in today's war are guilty of accepting gifts from the Greeks without looking to see what's inside of them first.

IT'S UNNATURAL

An old timer, who claims to know something about politics, says there's something unnatural about the presidential setup this year.

"Look," he says. "Congress is sitting on its hands. No one but the ax grinders has any interest in the circus cooking in Washington. The President hasn't stirred up the animals since way back when. That's no way to go into a campaign. Where are the issues?" Perhaps the idea is to let foreign policy be the issue, because that's what people are interested in this year.

The old timer rubbed his ear thoughtfully. "Maybe so," he said thoughtfully, "but right now both sides are clinging to the same proposition. At least neither side has had spunk enough yet to hint that isolationism is the only way to keep the isolationists crack it up to be."

So what?

"So it's about time for some white rabbits to get pulled out of a hat," grinned the old timer. "Things are too quiet to be true."

THAT TIRED SPRING FEELING

Discusses Mental Suggestion In The Treatment Of Warts

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

WHAT is the treatment of warts?

This was the subject of discussion of about 50 physicians at a recent meeting of the Academy of Dermatology in Philadelphia. This shows that the seemingly trivial problem is one that is by no means as easy as it looks. Some cases of warts are very easy to cure; others will tax the resourcefulness of the skin specialist to the limit. About half the cases of juvenile warts, on people below the age of 15, can be cured without treatment.

Since so many warts can be cured by suggestion, this is the explanation of time-honored methods of rubbing the wart with a piece of meat and then burying the meat under an apple tree on a moonlight night, rubbing the wart with a cut apple licked with the tongue, etc.

Dr. Clending will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The suggestion treatment consists in painting the warts with an entirely inert coloring fluid. The patient is told very impressively that as long as any trace of color is visible the warts are not to be touched. The complete disappearance of the warts occurs in four to eight weeks with this innocuous treatment in favorable cases.

The best form of physical treatment is by the x-ray. Simple applications of certain ointments are often very efficacious.

Epileptic Seizures
What is the diet used to prevent epileptic seizures?

The diet is a high-fat diet, low in starch and sugar, known as the "ketogenic diet." It is considered by many who have had experience perimental proof of this. Buttermilk does contain calcium. Calcium is not helpful in brittle nails. Brittle nails are, in most cases, due to an infection, either by ringworm or other fungus or yeast, or some germ.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clending has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clending, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

REDDING, Cal. — Albert Vestal, 81, lived "in luxury" at one of the leading hotels here, taking his meals regularly in the hotel dining room. # The CAIRO GARTER MURDERS

By VAN DYCK MASON

CHAPTER XXV.

Hugh North cast his host a sympathetic look. "What I can't understand," said he slowly, "is how these shipments have been getting through. Surely your navy can patrol the coast and your planes the desert?"

"We do, off and on, but War Office says it's too expensive to maintain a permanent patrol," Sir George uttered a barking laugh. "As if it won't be ten thousand times more expensive if trouble breaks out again."

When Sir George opened up with, "Well, here's what's been happening for a month we so patrol the coast that a fishing boat can't get through—and catch nothing. Not more than a lugger or two, that is. We leave off, then straight away two or three big gunrunners—steamers—get through and the tribesmen take to sniping our outposts. Beavers seem to know just how to time their landings. We've suspected a leak in the service, but haven't caught any of our people up to tricks."

"Here's something you ought to know," North said. "Perhaps Inspector Clive has told you certain—customers' of mine have placed large orders, stipulating that the arms must be delivered inside of four days?"

"Yes, Clive told me," Ruthven pasha cast a look over his shoulder at the clerk. "I say, Neville, where is that Marconigram Henderson sent to the War Office?"

Perching eyeglasses on a fine, port-tinted nose, Sir George read: "Agents report probable date outbreak on Feast of Ibn el-Arabi, an important local saint. Urgently request immediate re-inforcement of at least three infantry battalions."

"Does the Feast of Ibn el-Arabi occur on the 23rd of November?"

"Quite right. Poor old Henderson held Palestine once myself—it's hell! Well, Captain, what precautions do you suggest?"

"There's no chance for an efficient patrol?"

The high commissioner paused, jerked his nearly bald head to one side and shrugged a little. "Our naval forces in Egyptian waters are very important for the moment. Every available ship has been ordered for—er—maneuvers off Minora and we are extra short-handed because of the Spanish trouble. I fear our one hope is to nip any shipments before they can be delivered."

Sir George Ruthven turned and, forcing a smile, held out his hand. "Thank you for coming, Captain; Lady Ruthven and I would be delighted to have you dine with us soon."

Swinging vigorously along the Piece D'Abidin, Hugh North decided on a little inquiry postponed through stress of circumstances. Amazingly, he paused at the American Legation for a chat with the first secretary, one Tim Clark, a classmate and an old friend.

Ben Yamen Hasid Pasha? The diplomat pursed judicious lips. It appeared that the Egyptian was an enormously successful cotton grower, son of a debauched minister of finance who had sold the Khedive, his master, to moneylenders lock, stock and barrel, then had been wise enough to flee. Yes, Hasid imported machinery and spun his own cotton. Very pleasant chap, too; played quite a decent number three at polo.

Had he ever been in trouble?

No, Clark thought not; Ben Yamen Hasid, on the surface at least, had left politics severely alone.

"There's a Frenchman I met on shipboard—Levasseur, Auguste Levasseur," North stated. "Face color of an early Byzantine parchment. Quite an amateur Egyptologist. Know him?"

The first secretary nodded and above the whir of a large electric fan said "Yes. He's supposedly a curio dealer, but he's been around the French Legation a good deal too much. Mysterious sort of a duck. Say, speaking of Egyptologists, Hugh, you ought to meet the quaint old boy who runs Lawrence College. Looks like a sort of oversized Mr. Chips."

"I know, I've met him."

"Why this sudden interest in Egyptology, Hugh?" Clark was curious.

North, however, evaded the question by asking another. "Person I really came to find out about is a Monsieur E. Phillpides."

The first secretary's blue eyes widened. "Phillpides? Whew! After two days here you're flying pretty high in Egyptian society. Why the interest?"

"Oh, the old gentleman invited me to take a cruise downstream on his dahabeah this evening. Thought I'd like to know something about him."

Clark grinned. "Well, there's plenty to be learned. Remember Sir Basil Zaharoff?"

"Yes, The Greek munitions dealer who made an immense fortune? Never did learn much about his private life."

"Well, Hugh, your pal Phillpides is a sort of second Zaharoff—on an even larger scale. At one time he supplied nearly all the Balkan kingdoms with munitions."

"Legally?"

Clark looked curiously at his caller. "Whenever possible, I'm told."

"What make?" came the prompt query.

"Why, just a minute, I'll look it up."

When the first secretary reappeared, North learned that that M. Phillpides dealt most exclusively in weapons of French and Italian manufacture.

"Monsieur Phillpides is unique," Clark observed. "You see, he's actually fought in half-a-dozen wars—to get first hand knowledge of his wares, he said. Other dealers stay safely at home."

"Is he still active?"

Timothy Clark shook his handsome gray head. "No, as near as anyone knows, he's quit. Sold out to someone."

"You don't happen to know who that someone is?"

"No, Hugh," the other advised, "but I'd go along on Phillpides' yacht tonight if I were you. Whatever happens you won't be bored. I promise you that."

To Hugh North's keen disappointment he found at his hotel no report concerning an analysis of powder found on the garters, nor any word concerning Bruce Kilgour's fate. A dank sense of empti-

Plans for a public inspection of the new dial telephone exchange which was cut into service here last December were announced here today by Carl F. Willman, commercial manager for the Ohio Bell Telephone company.

"During the visitation period Wednesday and Thursday, the building at 153 N. Lundy st. will be opened for public inspection between the hours of 2 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. and from 6:30 p. m. to 9 p. m.," said Willman.

"On behalf of Salem telephone employees, I invite everyone living in this vicinity to pay us a visit on either of the open house days."

Visitors to the exchange will be divided into small groups and conducted on a tour of the building with telephone employees acting as guides to explain interesting phases of the business.

Displays dealing with the more interesting and educational phases of telephony will be located throughout the building.

The reception committee for the "open house" will be composed of Willman, Miss Mary Fink, chief operator, and Adam A. Smith, plant chief.

ASKS U. S. SPEED SHIP BUILDING

Navy Suggests Congress Appropriate More Defense Funds

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The navy recommended today that congress provide immediately an additional $200,000,000 to speed up construction of 65 combat and auxiliary ships now on the way. A 48-hour work week for government and private shipyards also was proposed.

At the White House it was disclosed that President Roosevelt, planning a message to congress later in the week, would leave up to the legislators a decision on whether to finance proposed increases in defense costs by enacting new taxes on raising the federal debt limit and borrowing the money.

Rear Admiral S. M. Robinson, coordinator of ship construction, told the house naval committee that the navy wants to put navy and private shipyards on a three-shift basis. He conceded, in response to questions by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) that it would be about nine months before the yards would be in "full swing" at the projected faster pace.

He said from three to seven months would be saved in the construction of each ship by the speed-up program.

U. S. Joins Protest Against Invasion

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The United States expressed today its willingness to join with the other American republics in a joint declaration of protest to Germany over the invasion of Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The state department told the Uruguayan government, which originated a move for a joint declaration and the Panamanian government which communicated the Uruguayan suggestion to the other republics, that the United States would be glad to join with Uruguay and the other republics in such a declaration.

A state department note added that this government was in full agreement with the draft of a text for the joint declaration of protest as written by Uruguay.

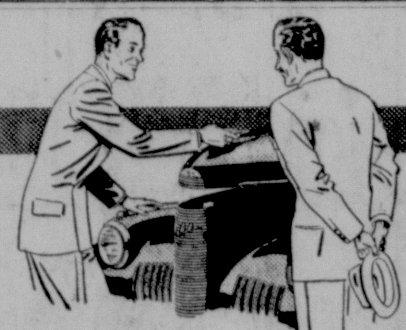

The state department released the text of a cablegram received from the government of Uruguay through the Panamanian foreign minister.

Theatre Attractions

John Payne and Linda Darnell in "Star Dust," showing at the State theater Wednesday only.

Linda Darnell, who has been called the most exciting screen discovery in years, is starred in the romantic comedy, "Star Dust," which will be the State theater's Wednesday only bill.

John Payne, Roland Young, Charlotte Greenwood, William Gargan, Mary Beth Hughes, Mary Healy, Donald Meek, Jessie Ralph, and Walter Kingsford are seen in the cast.

The story concerns a young screen discovery whose determined search for fame brings heartbreak until the friends she won do something about it. It is a happy choice for the young actress, whose screen personality develops with each picture. Payne, too, receives a break, doing his best work to date as the ex-football star who makes the grade as a film actor.

Concluding tonight at the State is Jack Benny's "Buck Benny Rides Again," with Phil Harris, Ellen Drew, Rochester and Andy Devine.

The Grand's Wednesday features will be: "In Old Missouri" with the Weaver brothers and Elvira, and Thurston Hall; and "Cafe Hostess," an expose of the "clip-joint" racket, with Preston Foster, Ann Dvorak, Wynne Gibson, Peggy Shannon, Bradley Page and Arthur Loft.

Secretary Hull's statement was interpreted as a change in the administration's views as to the seriousness of the situation in Italy. Ten days ago, Undersecretary Welles said the state department was giving no consideration whatever to warning Americans in Italy to leave.

The high command report also said German planes attacked ships of The Netherlands navy yesterday along the coast of the North Holland province.

Five planes which came over the Dutch naval base at Den Helder were shot down yesterday.

Earlier today the high command announced the Dutch army had taken up positions in the strong defense line in Utrecht province.

"So much of it has gone on it."

Park Improvements Continue To Delay Softball Opening

CITY SOFTBALL LEAGUES AWAIT OPENING GAMES

Improvement Work at Centennial Park Still Under Way

Workmen continued to rush improvements on Centennial park baseball diamonds today, but play in city softball leagues is not expected to get under way until next week.

J. M. Kelley, director of the leagues, announced that the two park diamonds will probably not be ready for use before next Monday. It was hoped that the diamonds would be available Wednesday, but Kelley said the improvement project is not expected to be finished in time to make this possible. He added that there is little chance of the diamonds being ready before the end of the week.

Work on filling low spots in the diamonds continued today, leaving the task of leveling and rolling new ground to be done before a five-inch layer of top soil can be placed on both fields.

Biggest Task
Elimination of a four-foot drop between home plate and the outer stretches of right field in the Class A diamond is the biggest task facing workmen now busy on the improvement project. Two trucks were occupied all day Monday hauling dirt to fill in this low spot.

While players have been sitting back awaiting the opening of the 1940 softball season, Kelley declared that several problems have appeared in regard to operation of the Class A league.

These problems will be discussed at a meeting of Class A teams at the Memorial building at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. All teams affiliated with the league are expected to send a representative to the meeting.

A move to outlaw the rule permitting bunting is one of the matters to be discussed.

The Class A league this year includes 12 teams, making it the largest in the history of organized softball in Salem. The Church league includes eight teams.

WILLIS HUDLIN GIVEN RELEASE

Veteran Pitcher Sliced From Indians' Squad by Manager Vitt

CLEVELAND, May 14.—Willis Hudlin, one of the oldest American league players in point of service, went job-hunting today.

The dean of the Cleveland pitching staff was given his unconditional release yesterday as Manager Oscar Vitt slashed his squad within one of the 25-player limit which becomes effective tomorrow.

Today's game with Philadelphia marked the first time in more than 13 years a Cleveland team has taken the field without "Hud" on the mound or in the dugout. Bob Feller was due to hurl with Nelson Potter on the hill for the Athletics.

Hudlin was purchased from Waco of the Texas league a year after his graduation from High school. He will be 34 years old on May 23.

A Sad Farewell
Hudlin won two and lost one this season, being batted out by the Browns Sunday in his last appearance. His lifetime record here is 197 victories and 151 defeats. His best season was in 1927 when he won 18 and lost 12. He won 10 games or more for 10 seasons.

"It certainly was a surprise to me," Hudlin commented, "but it's all part of the game."
He said he was confident he would land a job with another American league team. The Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox were reported interested in signing the right-hander.

Catcher Hank Helt or one of the relief pitchers is expected to be the other Indian to go.

Joe Knepper Wins Memorial Tourney

CLEVELAND, May 14.—Joe Knepper shot a sub-par 70 yesterday to win the annual Joe Mitchell Memorial golf tournament. Knepper, now assistant pro at the Cleveland Country club, was one of Mitchell's pupils.

Eighty-nine pros and amateurs competed in the event, which honors the memory of the Cleveland Country club pro who died in 1938.

Tony Joy of Youngstown was second with 71 and Jack Miskell of Youngstown third with a par 72.

L. Gullikson of Canton had 37-36-73.

FINANCE FIVE COPS TITLE IN BOWLING LOOP

Become New Champs In 12-Team Quaker City League

A new champion ruled the 12-team Quaker City bowling league today following completion of the league's 1939-40 season at the Grate Recreation alleys last night.

The new titleholder is the Colonial Finance team, winner of 70 of its 99 games during the eight-month campaign.

The Finance keglers, who succeeded the Althouse Motors as league champion, dominated the Quaker City circuit throughout most of the campaign, although they were pressed by the Columbiana Tyme Club at one time during the season.

Drop Far Behind
The Tyme Club, however, fell far behind in the late stages of the championship race, finishing in second place seven games behind the Finance five.

The Tyme Club won 63 games and lost 36, while the champions won 70 games and lost 29. Members of the Colonial Finance's championship squad are Charles Huffer, Russ Limestahl, Walt Hiltbrand, Louis Dechow, Forest Bishop and Fred Cope.

Trailing the Tyme Club by five games, the Masons finished in third place with a record of 58 wins and 41 losses.

Flooding & Reynard Drugs captured fourth place on the final night of the season, winning three games from Recreation Billiards on a forfeit to finish the campaign with record of 55 victories and 44 defeats.

The Althouse Motors, who were formerly tied for fourth place, dropped to fifth position on the final night when they lost three games to the Golden Eagle's. The Motors' season record lists 52 wins and 47 set-backs.

Lape Finishes Sixth
The Hotel Lape, last team in the league with a record better than .500 per cent, finished in sixth place with 50 wins and 49 losses.

Other teams finished in the following order: Golden Eagle, 47-52; Coy Buicks, 44-55; Burt Capel Realtors, 43-56; Grate Ford V-8's, 39-60; Salem Motor, 37-62; Recreation Billiards, 36-63.

The Grate V-8's, a ladies' team, replaced the Saxons near the end of the season, advancing from last place to tenth position before the campaign closed.

Final standings of the league and results of last night's matches follow:

National League Leaders Battle

BROOKLYN, May 14.—Still in first place but a bit dizzy over a 14-inning merry-go-round with the Cards which ended with the score tied, 8 to 8, the Reds faced The Dodgers today.

Leadership of the National league hinged on outcome of the encounter as Brooklyn ended a successful campaign against the Phils only a half game behind the Cincinnati club.

Both teams put forth the best they had for the decisive battle. Bucky Walters, ace hurler for the Reds, went on the mound against Tex Carleton, who rode to fame a few weeks ago by pitching a no-hit, no-run game in Cincinnati.

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK. Mont.—To help in identifying and in locating bodies of climbers, superintendents of all national parks have been asked to install a registration system for climbers before they start out.

School Tragedy

Norma Unruh
Clifford Zipse

Police at Grangeville, Idaho, held Clifford A. Zipse, 16-year-old student, in connection with the fatal shooting of a schoolmate. Police said the youth shot and killed his schoolmate because he thought the student was "snitching" on him to the teacher, Norma Unruh.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, May 14.—Trotters and pacers are all set to go under the lights at Mineola, L. I., now that the governor has appointed a commission.... If George Preston Marshall was a baseball instead of a football barn, he'd go a long way to get Zeke Bonura and Buck Newsom. Estimates each is worth 75,000 paid admissions.

And So It Goes
Here's Shirley Temple retiring at 11 with three million potatoes and Comrade Whitney Martin quipping, "I reckon I'll be able to retire at three million with 11 bucks."

Rae De Sockerger: Jenkins vs. Armstrong has struck a snag. Jenkins won't sign at over 138 and Armstrong insists on 140. They'll probably compromise on 139.... Mike Jacobs, who let an option on the Boston Garden go by the boards, has been getting balder and balder ever since Armstrong and Paul Junior netted $32,000 up there.... Johnny Paycheck is anxious to prove he isn't as bad as all that and wants to fight Red Burman free gratis on the Louis-Grody card.... Lou Ambers will take his first match as a welterweight soon after the stork visits his home in June.

Today's Guest Star
James S. Kearns, Chicago Daily News: "One line forecast: The U. of Chicago case will scarcely be mentioned at the Big Ten meeting, May 24-25."

Freddy Fitzsimmons, the portly Dodger pitcher, needs only six more wins to run his National league string to 200.... Walter Hagen, playing like his old self, hasn't been over par since the Mas-

BRUSSELS FIGHT IS DEVELOPING

The Netherlands government of Premier Dorek Jan de Geer arrived here today to join Queen Wilhelmina and the other members of the Dutch royal family who sought sanctuary in England.

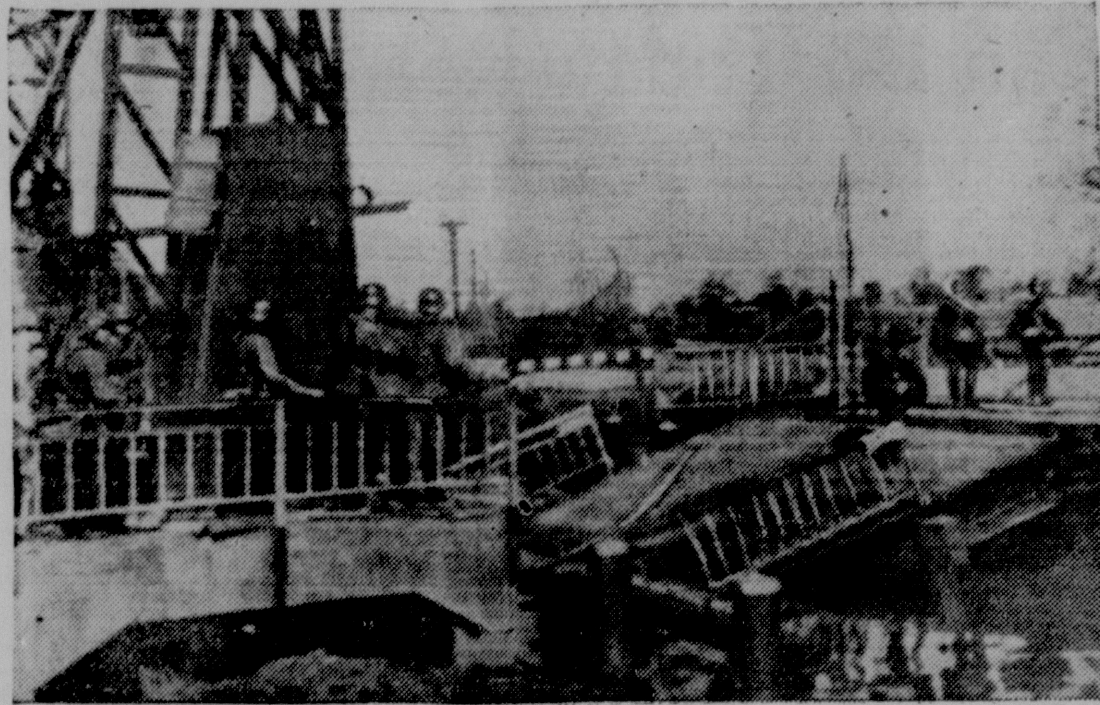

The British military source who said that the situation in southern Holland is "extremely serious" also said it was regarded in London as "likely" that Liege was isolated, but expressed belief that fighting is going on at the Liege citadel, which the Germans reported yesterday was captured.

A naval authority said that The Netherlands officials seized 19 German merchant ships in the Dutch East Indies and seven in the Dutch West Indies. He added that five other German ships were mined and sunk by Norwegians or scuttled or set afire by their crews between May 6 and May 11.

A British dispatch quoted the Norwegian high command as saying that additional Allied troops had been landed at Bjerkvik, Norway, south of the ore port of Narvik, where the Allies are besieging a German garrison.

COLUMBIA, S. C.—A student at the University of South Carolina asked to be excused for missing a class and gave a rather unusual reason: "My wife gave birth to a child." The registrar said it was the first time he ever heard that excuse, but accepted it.

Holland's Defenders Blast Bridges Before Nazis

Striving to slow the advance of German troops invading Holland, Dutch soldiers blasted this bridge as they fell back before the Nazi onslaught. This radiophoto, passed by the German censor, shows German soldiers standing on an undamaged abutment of the wrecked span.

HITLER FORCES CLAIMING GAINS

High Command Announces Break In Gnebb Defense Line

Nazi military leaders, claiming a steady advance along the entire front, declared that the fighting thus far, in Holland and Belgium, fierce as it has been, is but a prelude to a gigantic struggle which may dwarf the World war's first battle of the Marne.

This conflict is expected to take place somewhere in southern Belgium where the Allies are reported massing their combined armies for a stand.

German commentators pinned their confidence in the outcome of the impending head-on collision on the fighting qualities of the Nazi soldiers and the asserted superiority of the German air force to which they gave credit for the victories already won in the low countries.

Say 1,000 Planes Destroyed

Air strength was said to have been enhanced by the destruction of more than 1,000 enemy airplanes in the first three days of the "real" war, the German radio declared. Nazi air losses were described as comparatively small.

(French official sources said the Germans had lost at least 400 planes up to noon yesterday.)

Thus far, German military men said, even the most modern fortifications in Belgium and Holland have proved no real obstacle.

German official sources shed no light on the nature of the "secret weapon" which earlier was reported to have enabled a small number of men to capture the powerful Belgian fortress of Eben Emael, near Liege.

Some observers speculated, however, that the "secret weapon" might be a reference to the use of parachute troops.

Help So Near

CLEVELAND, May 14—Thinking "it was a family argument," six men made no attempt to aid Miss Emily Magielski as they saw her dragged into a west side alley and robbed of $1,100. She was taking the money to a bank.

TOPEKA, Kas.—Kansas is stepping up in the ranks of flour producing states and produced 15 percent of all flour milled in the nation during February, a report by Secretary J. C. Mohler of the state board of agriculture disclosed.

START WORK ON NEW PLAY SPOT

Electric Furnace Co. Provides Lot for Recreation Center

hopes to develop trained leaders among young people of Salem, eventually leading up to organization of a Boys' club.

Assistance in building the playground is being given the fraternity by city officials, but the recreation center will not be a part of the city's park system. Herman pointed out today that the fraternity is undertaking construction of the playlot solely as its own project with the cooperation of the Electric Furnace Co.

No money is being provided by the city, although Mayor Norman Phillips, Service Director Charles Kennedy and Ed Sheen and J. M. Kelley, members of the park commission, are giving their assistance to the project.

Seek Funds

As a means of raising funds to purchase necessary playground equipment, the fraternity is sponsoring a semi-formal dance, open to the public, at the Elks home Saturday night. Dancing will be from 9 to 1 to the music of Bill Blair and his "High Hatters" from Pittsburgh with Helen Rose and Bill Cannon as vocalists.

A feature of the dance will be the selection of a "Miss Salem" to reign during the evening.

The fraternity recently accepted nine new members for a 90-day probationary period. They are: Daniel Buchanan, Dominick Zappone, Arthur Whipkey, Anthony Decrow, Andy Ulrich, Gus Sechler, Jr., Glenn Sweeney, Frank Bush and Stanley Kubas.

FOURTH GRADER IS MIBS CHAMP

Dominick Parlow Takes Championship At Prospect

Making a clean sweep in six matches, Dominick Parlow, straight-shooting fourth grade student, captured the championship of Prospect school today in The Salem News fourth annual city marble tournament.

Parlow, nine-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Parlow, Sr., of 508 W. Pershing st., advanced through the Prospect school finals without losing a match.

The fourth grade champion swept aside Larry Herman of the first grade, 7-1; John Bojnanski of the second grade, 7-3; Albert Spack of the third grade, 7-5; John Rupa of the fifth grade, 7-3; Benny Brudger of the sixth grade, 7-0, and Wilbert Pressacco of a special class 7-0.

Parlow, a confident, curly-headed misbehave who blows on his left hand for luck before shooting with his right, encountered his stiffest opposition in his match with Spack, champion of the third grade. Spack won two straight matches by 7-0 scores before losing to Parlow, 7-5.

Parlow's victory in the Prospect school finals, in addition to winning him one of The News' handsome marble medals, earned him the right to compete in the city finals to be held late this month at Reilly stadium.

The west end grade school is the second to complete its finals in The News' tournament. The first under the wire was St. Paul's Catholic school which named Rudolph Clotti as its champion.

Finals at Columbia school are expected to be run off by tournament officials tomorrow.
